Ebenezer G. Wallace.

Ebenezer G. Wallace, of the shoe manufacturing firm of S. G. and E. Wallace, died in Rochester, N. H., Wednesday morning, Aug. 25, aged 70. Mr. Wallace was born in Berwick, Me. When 17 years of age he learned the trade of tanning and carrying, which he followed until his death. His education was received at Phillips Exeter Academy where he supported himself by tanning calf skins and small stock, doing work on the stock mornings and evenings. Early in 1849, Mr. Wallace went to California, where he remained three years, working in the mines. In 1852, he with his wife, brother, Edwin, purchased a tannery, from which the large business of 50-cents was reached. Mr. Wallace's wealth is said to be a million and a quarter.

The Messrs. Wallace own the electric light plant in Norway and have been largely interested in the tanning business here. They have a number of relatives in town.

WEST SUMMER.

The nice run of this week was joyfully received.

Mrs. Lizzie A. Chandler of Lynn, Mass., came to her father's, J. R. Folsom's, Aug. 20th, for a vacation.

Rosie Fletcher from Bates College spent a portion of this vacation with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Fletcher.

Gracie March, 8 years old, is outlying a quilt.

Lester Heath has bought Charles Handy's cow.

Luther Hollis made a flying visit home from Dering where he has been at work.

Ella Mansfield and children returned home to Lynn, Mass., Thursday of last week.

Annie Parilla and two lady friends named Eaton stopped over Sunday at her father's, A. G. Parilla's.

Mr. and Mrs. Hill and daughter from West Paris have visited at C. M. Packard's this week.

Prof. C. B. Stetson, wife and son are visiting at his brother's, Rollin Stetson's.

Oscar Swift's new house is nearly completed and with his barn and shed makes one of the finest set of farm buildings in this vicinity.

SEIZANT'S POND.

The game of base ball Saturday between the second nines of the Norway and Bryant's Pond clubs resulted in the defeat of the latter.

J. E. Hathaway and wife visited friends in Otisfield last week.

Dogs are again making sad havoc among the sheep in Woodstock. The pastures of G. N. Felt, G. L. Cushman and D. A. Libby seem to be the chief attraction for these ravenous four legged. No less than 14 sheep have been killed.

Mabel Bumpus is visiting her father, Kilborn Peckham.

Mrs. Ella Cummings and daughter of Massachusetts visited at D. A. Cole's last week.

C. P. Berry and wife of South Paris visited visited friends at Bryant's Pond last week.

Trip to Rumford Falls.

The morning dawned bright and clear on Aug. 10th, and a small party started from North Norway on a trip to Rumford Falls, consisting of Frank Cox and wife, O. L. Stone and Mr. Cox's daughter, Ella Weathia, also his son, Oscar, and Eunice Abbott. They drove in single teams and were well equipped with camping outfit and provisions. Their way led by West Paris, Trap Corner, then to North Woodstock, on to Rumford Center and by a swiftly moving river shaded on both sides by tall trees, which made the drive more pleasant as the unmitigated rays of the sun poured down upon the dusty travelers.

After leaving the Center, they moved on a few miles stopping at a farm-house where lives a friend of one of the party, Mrs. Eunice Putnam. Going a few miles farther they came in sight of the city of Rumford Falls.

Here they stopped a few moments to look for a place to rest and feed the tired horses, and refresh themselves from the lunch basket. Soon they espied a large grove of pines a short distance from the hot and dusty streets of the city, and all agreed that was the place to camp.

They arrived there at noon and after feeding the horses and parking the teams from the lunch baskets, they looked around for a place to pitch their tent for the night.

In a short time they selected a spot near a farm-house and secured a stable for the teams.

Later in the afternoon they strolled down to view the Falls. After looking over some of the mills, electric light station and other places of note, they climbed the hill and camped for the night.

The next morning proved as fair as the preceding but not as sultry. They arose early and after curing for the horses and parking of the food which the ladies had so thoughtfully provided, they started by another route back to Norway.

Nothing of importance occurred to mar the pleasure of the party except while crossing the ferry at Inancover, when one horse became somewhat frightened and broke a rib to the last carriage that drove on to the boat.

Mr. Goddard, where they stopped just before noon to feed the horses and refresh themselves from their store of food treated them very handsly. Again they started on their way and after driving a distance of some miles came to Locke's Mills, stopping a short time to see their friends, Mr. Tracy and family, who keeps the Mount Abram House. From there they wended their way by Greenwood City to their destination, arriving about dusk. All pronounced the trip to Rumford Falls a success. O. L. S.

The North Conway Coaching Parade will occur Thursday, Aug. 31st.

F. W. Barnora attended the Bethel and Fryeburg races this week. Horse races are getting to be almost a weekly occurrence in Oxford County.

John L. Horne has about a dozen acres of sweet corn. Notwithstanding the dry weather of the past two months, the crop is in excellent condition.

Luther P. Tucker and wife of New York have been visiting friends and relatives in this vicinity. Mr. T. is a member of the banking firm of Buckenhouse, Davis & Co., 711 Broadway.

Cyrus Kneeland of Albany Basin fame was in town Saturday and showed us a copy of the first issue of the Gazette published in January, 1800, telling of the death of Gen. Webb.

It is expected that Hon. John P. Sweeney of Canton will address the people on the subject of temperance at the Methodist church Sunday evening, Sept. 10.

Judge C. F. Whitman will preside.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. P. Downing and son in attendance with their friends, Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Billings of Newtonville, Mass., have been enjoying a very pleasant outing for the last two weeks at Lake Umbagog.

James A. Shedd and wife, Geo. Marr, Horace Dismore, and Mrs. Dismore and wife, Cora Shedd, Mrs. L. B. Holden and Alice Thorton have been spending three weeks at Old Orchard Beach. They returned the first of the week, and report an excellent time.

Albertain C. T. Witz, wife and three children of East Boston, are visiting at Mr. Witz's mother's, Mrs. Thomas Witz's.

Five years ago when he was here he got burned out and this time he thinks he has made a success of it, and almost incessantly the first few days of his visit.

Several old soldiers from this town who were in the 32d Maine Regt. attended the reunion this week. Among them were Capt. Amos E. Noyes of Co. B, The Captain of the 1st Maine Cavalry. They would miss one of these reunions for anything. He held commissions in three different Maine regiments, 14th, 22d and 32d.

Shorliff Isiah S. Webb, of Bridgton, is one of the best story tellers in western Maine and is always cordially welcomed whenever he comes here. His anecdotes are of the best and his stories are of the best. Tuesday, on the Elm House piazza, when he was entertaining the company of the last two weeks, he had told several good stories, he launched what he called a "big gun" and almost immediately one of his hearers remarked, "Webb, I heard John P. Sweeney tell that story of Proberts Court six months ago." All joined heartily in the laugh that followed and no more than Sweeney, himself, who happened to be present.

Don Seitz, a manager of the New York World, and friend, J. Smith of New York, were entertained by Dr. B. F. Bradbury and wife Monday and Tuesday.

Mr. Smith is secretary in the Naval Office, N. Y. They went from here to Deering, where Mrs. Seitz and the two children are stopping at her parents, and took the boat from Portland to New York Wednesday night. During his trip East Don had visited his father, Rev. J. A. Seitz, at West Concord, Vt. Don was only here about twenty-four hours and had a very busy time, but he was very friendly. Since Don was engaged in newspaper work in his village he had been very busy in his country. Without doubt Don will be among the men that Norway will refer to with pride in the coming year as being one of the "big men" who once lived within her borders.

Ebenezer G. Wallace.

Ebenezer G. Wallace, of the shoe manufacturing firm of E. G. and E. Wallace, died in Rochester, N. H., Wednesday morning, Aug. 23, aged 70. Mr. Wallace was born in Berwick, Me. When 17 years of age he learned the trade of tanning and currying, which he followed until his death. His education was received at Phillips Exeter Academy where he supported himself by tanning calf skins and small stock, doing work on the stock mornings and evenings. Early in 1840, Mr. Wallace went to California, where he remained three years, working in the mines. In 1853, he with his twin brother, Edwin, purchased a tannery, from which the large business of to-day was reached. Mr. Wallace's wealth is said to be a million and a quarter. The Messrs. Wallace own the electric light plant in Norway and have been largely interested in the tanning business here. They have a number of relatives in town.

WEST SUMMER.

The nice rain of this week was joyfully received.

Mrs. Lizzie A. Chandler of Lynn, Mass., came to her father's, J. R. Patisfer's, Aug. 20th, for a vacation.

Rosie Fletcher from Bates College spent a portion of his vacation with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Fletcher.

Gracie Murch, 8 years old, is outlying a quill.

Lester Heath has bought Charles Handry's cow.

Luther Hollis made a tying visit from Deerling where he has been at work. Ella Mansfield and children returned home to Lynn, Mass., Thursday last week.

Annie Parlin and two lady friends named Eaton stopped over Sunday at her father's, A. G. Parlin's.

Mr. and Mrs. Hill and daughter from West Paris have visited at C. M. Packard's this week.

Prof. C. B. Stetson, wife and son are visiting at his brother's, Rollin Stetson's.

Oscar Swift's new house is nearly completed and with his barn and shed makes one of the finest set of farm buildings in this vicinity.

SWAN'S POND.

The game of base ball Saturday between the second nine of the Norway and Bryant's Pond clubs resulted in the defeat of the latter.

J. E. Hallway and wife visited friends in Grafton last week.

Dogs are again making sad havoc among the sheep in Woodstock. The pastures of C. N. Felt, G. L. Cushman and D. J. Libby seem to be the chief attraction for these mutton loving curs. No less than 14 sheep have been killed.

Mabel Bumpus is visiting her father, Kilborn Perham.

Mrs. Ella Cummings and daughter of Massachusetts visited at D. A. Cole's last week.

C. P. Berry and wife of South Paris visited visiting friends at Bryant's Pond last week.

Excursion from Bryant's Pond to Foxland Friday, Aug. 25, for only $1.25 and return.

Trip to Rumford Falls.

The morning dawned bright and clear on Aug. 10th, and a small party started from North Norway on a trip to Rumford Falls, consisting of Frank Cox and wife, O. L. Stone and Mr. Cox's daughter, Verthalia, also his son, Oscar, and Eunice Abbott. They drove in single teams and were well equipped with camping outfit and provisions. Their way led by West Paris, Iron Corner, then to North Woodstock, on to Rumford Center and Woodstock, on to Rumford Falls, and thence by a swiftly moving river shaded on both sides by tall trees, which made the drive more pleasant as the unmitigated rays of the sun poured down upon the dusty travelers.

After leaving the Center, they moved on a few miles stopping at a farm-house where lives a friend of one of the party, Mrs. Eunice Putnam. Going a few miles further they came in sight of the city of Rumford Falls.

Here they stopped a few moments to look for a place to rest and feed the tired horses, and refresh themselves from the lunch baskets. Soon they entered a large grove of pines a short distance from the road and dusty streets of the city, and all agreed that was the place to camp.

They arrived there at noon and after feeding the horses and partaking freely from the lunch baskets, they looked around for a place to pitch their tent for the night.

In a short time they selected a spot near a farm-house and secured a stable for the teams.

Later in the afternoon they strolled down to view the Falls. After looking over some of the mills, electric light station and other places of note, they climbed the hill and camped for the night.

The next morning proved as fair as the preceding but not as sultry. They arose early and after eating the horses and partaking of the food which the ladies had so thoughtfully provided, they started by another route back to Norway.

Nothing of importance occurred to mar the pleasure of the party except while crossing the ferry at Hanover, when one horse became somewhat frightened and broke to shill to the last carriage that drove on to the boat.

Mr. Goddard, where they stopped just before noon to feed the horses and refresh themselves from their store of food, treated them very kindly. Again they started on their way and after driving a distance of some miles came to Locke's Mills, stopping a short time to see their friends, Mr. Tracy and family, who keeps the Mount Abram House. From there they wended their way by Greenwood City to their destination, arriving about dark. All pronounced the trip to Rumford Falls a success. O. L. Stone.

The North Conway Coaching Parade will occur Thursday, Aug. 31st.

SCHOLARS can obtain rooms, meals, or board, at Mrs. S. T. Woodman's, 14 Barton St., Norway.
